

The following institutions are participants in the University Project for Bipartisan Governance

American Congressional Exchange

Center on American Politics,
University of Denver

Center for Effective Lawmaking

Frank Batten School for Leadership and Public Policy, University of Virginia

College of Arts and Sciences, Vanderbilt
University

Duke University

Indiana University

The Institute for Freedom and Community,
St. Olaf College

Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs,
University of Texas at Austin

Paul Simon Public Policy Institute,
Southern Illinois University

The Lugar Center welcomes additional partners in the University Project for Bipartisan Governance. If your institution is interested in getting involved, please contact Jamie Spitz – jamie@thelugarcenter.org; 202-816-3333